BANNING OF NAZI NEWS-REEL

"INSIDE NAZI GERMANY"

PROVIDING no satisfaction for the many filmgoers of this Colony who have protested against the banning of the March of Time news-reel, "Inside Nazi Germany," an official statement on the matter was released by the Commissioner of Police yesterday.

It is explained that when the censor first viewed the film he had grave doubts about the commentary. YET HE GAVE THE NECESSARY PERMISSION FOR PUBLIC SCREENING.

A censor, in conscientiously carrying out his duties, must frequently be assailed by doubts, but doubts alone are not sufficient grounds for censoring a film, as the censor has shown by his first actions in regard to "Inside Nazi Germany."

On Monday of this week, however, the film was recalled and reviewed in the presence of a senior British resident of the Colony and a representative of the German Consulate. Following this, the film was banned.

The question arises, "Why was the presence of a senior British resident of the Colony considered necessary?"

If the censor was within his rights in showing a picture which he was reviewing to a private citizen, then the whole usefulness of the system of censoring is challenged.

If one private citizen is allowed to see (and hear) a film which is banned, then the film should be shown to the whole community.

"It is quite incorrect that the film was banned at the instigation or request of any officer of the German Consulate," according to the official statement.

THIS DOES not remove the doubt that "Inside Nazi Germany" would have been shown in Hong Kong without censoring had it not been for objections raised on behalf of the German Consulate.

Despite his doubts, the censor passed the film in the first place. Still doubtful, he reviewed it, and following objections by the official from the German Consulate, the commentary was deleted, resulting finally in the complete banning of the film.

The residents of Hong Kong want to know if they are to be granted their normal right, as British subjects, to see this film.

In view of the fact that it was shown without interference in Great Britain, that the censor himself was doubtful about it, that one private citizen of this Colony has already seen it, why not show it to the public and let them decide if the film is objectionable?

After it has been shown, a vote could be taken as to whether "Inside Nazi Germany" is pro or anti Nazi—or just a really first-class news-reel.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT RELEASED

CENSOR "HAD GRAVE DOUBTS"

INTERVIEWED by a representative of the Daily Press yesterday regarding the banning of the March of Time news-reel, "Inside Nazi Germany," the Commissioner of Police (Hon. Mr. T. H. King) issued the following statement.

"This film was viewed by the Censor on Friday June 10. There was no objection to it as a silent film, but he had grave doubts about the running commentary."

"He signed the Censorship Card, but at the same time expressed to the distributor his doubts and inquired from the manager of the studio when the film was required for exhibition. He was assured that it would not be required for a week."

Review Decision

"On Monday, June 13, the Censor communicated with the Chief Censor and as a result decided to review the film. He invited a senior British resident of the Colony and a representative of the German Consulate to be present."

"Both agreed with the Censor that the commentary should not be passed. The Censor agreed to pass the picture as a silent film, but the distributor would not agree to this. The picture was therefore banned."

Serious Difficulty

"Later, the distributor reported that there was a serious difficulty with the programme at the Alhambra Theatre for the afternoon of Tuesday, June 14, and he requested permission to show this picture as a silent film. The Censor gave his permission."

"It is quite incorrect that the film was banned at the instigation or request of any officer of the German Consulate."

No information was available yesterday as to whether the lifting of the ban on "Inside Nazi Germany" would be considered.

CHINESE BEGIN FURIOUS COUNTER-ATTACK IN ANKING SECTOR

Hankow, June 16.
Following the arrival of reinforcements, the Chinese have launched a furious counter-attack in the Anking sector, according to a Chinese military communique issued today.

A military dispatch from the front last night stated that the Chinese had recaptured Anking, but later messages indicated that while fighting was progressing in the outskirts, the city had not yet been re-occupied.

Chinese troops yesterday occupied Liushouhan, near Anking, according to the communique.

It is stated that eight Japanese warships are at present cruising in the river to the east of Anking.

At Taitou, on the south bank of the river opposite Anking, the Chinese forces are stated to have surrounded a detachment of Japanese troops which had landed and were using Taitou as a base for operations.

H.K. RESIDENTS DENOUNCE JAPANESE BOMBING OF CIVILIANS

RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT PUBLIC MEETING

CANTON HORRORS DESCRIBED BY FOREIGN EYE-WITNESSES

A remarkable unanimity of the spirit of condemnation was shown at the meeting of protest against the bombing of Canton by the Japanese, which was held under the auspices of the Hong Kong League of Nations Society at St. John's Cathedral Hall yesterday. There was a large, cosmopolitan attendance.

The object of the meeting was to pass the following resolution: "That this public meeting of Hong Kong residents, in the name of humanity, protests against the appalling slaughter and maiming of civilians through the bombings of Canton and other Chinese cities by the Japanese authorities and urges everyone of goodwill to mobilize public opinion against this form of warfare which threatens the foundations of civilization."

When the Resolution was put to the meeting, it was unhesitatingly and unanimously approved, amidst loud applause.

Dr. J. H. Montgomery presided, and others on the platform were His Lordship the Rt. Rev. R. Valtorta, Vicar-Apostolic of Hong Kong, His Lordship the Rt. Rev. R. O. Hall, Bishop of Hong Kong, the Rev. N. V. Halward, M.C., of Canton, Dr. W. W. Cadbury, of Canton, Mr. G. She, the Very Rev. J. L. Wilson and Dr. J. L. Reichelt.

PROTESTS IN OTHER PLACES

Opening the meeting, Dr. Montgomery, said:

"This meeting, as most of you know, had to be arranged hurriedly, and the object of the meeting, namely, to protest against the incessant bombing of Canton by the Japanese, is a special concern to Hong Kong residents, and this is well exemplified by the large number of people who have come this evening to attend our meeting and to join in our protest."

The sub-committee who framed this resolution wish to delete one word, the word indiscriminate as, what we wish to condemn is the bombing of towns and villages, regardless of whether it is discriminate or indiscriminate.

This meeting synchronises with public protests being made elsewhere. This clearly goes to show that different races in different parts of the world are thinking along the same lines (hear, hear) and cannot allow the repeated wounding and maiming of many non-combatants and the wanton destruction of civilian houses and other non-military buildings pass without raising the voice of protest against such methods of destruction of life and property which violate all the principles we stand for as members of the League and as members of the civilised community. (Applause.)

That is why we are met here this afternoon. We have no desire to stir up ill-will or bitter feeling, but we sincerely hope that our protest, combined with similar protests from all over the world, will so strengthen public opinion against such actions that the bombings of Canton and other cities and villages in China will cease. (Applause.)

BISHOP VALTORTA

Bishop Valtorta said:—
Bishops and Priests of the Catholic Church are not expected, nor are they permitted, to take part in politics or in protests of a political nature; their work in life must be confined exclusively to their task of preaching the law of God that commands us to love God above all things and to love our neighbour as ourselves. But it is our duty to protest against the Japanese bombing of civilians. (Continued on Page 9)

CHINESE PLANES BRING DOWN SIX JAPANESE

Cantonese Elated At Border Victory

Canton, June 16.
It is officially claimed that six unescorted Japanese bombers were brought down at Lokchong, near the Kwangtung-Hunan border, this morning.

It is stated that the Japanese machines, which were engaged in bombing the Canton-Hankow Railway, were attacked by 10 swift Chinese pursuit planes which flew in rings around the raiders, continuously machine-gunning and sending them down one by one.

Canton city is elated with the news and the populace, reacting to the recent bombings, are going wild with joy. Newsboys were screaming extras and newspapers sold like hot cakes.—(Reuters)

ATTEMPT TO BLOW BRIDGE

Hankow, June 16.
Five Japanese bombers were shot down this morning in an aerial battle on the Kwangtung-Hunan border, between Lokchong and Shukwan, according to Chinese aviation headquarters.

It was stated that nine heavy Japanese naval bombers flew north along the Canton-Hankow Railway in an attempt to bomb the largest railway bridge of the entire line near Lokchong.

Eighteen Chinese pursuits engaged the raiders and after a furious battle brought down five.

One Chinese machine ran short of fuel and made a forced landing. It was stated.—(Reuters)

CAME FROM AMOY

Canton, June 16.
Official Chinese dispatches carried colourful descriptions of the air battle in the vicinity of Lokchong, near Shukwan, today.

The official reports state that six Japanese bombers came from Amoy, through Fukien, visiting Namhuang, Szeching and Lokchong, but were surprised by 12 Chinese pursuit planes at the latter place.

All the six raiders were brought down, one at Lienhsien, one at Kaukong, one at Mabar and three at Lokchong.

The planes brought down at Lokchong have been discovered. Their numerical marks of 707, 7958 and 21079 show that they were made at the Tokyo and Chungking branches of the factory, says the report.

POLICE ON EXTORTION CHARGE

Five members of the Hong Kong Police appeared before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday on two charges of attempting to extort money on the pretext that such money was due to them as a fee in their capacity of officers of the law.

The complainants are Lam Kwan, who claims that the sum of $20 was demanded of him, and Shek So, who claims that $10 were demanded.

The five members of the Police Force charged are Charles Hosack Teller, Leung Chi, Mak Kong-ku, Sung Kui and Pun King-cheung, all attached to Shamshui-po Police Station.

Hearing of the case was fixed for June 23. Detective Inspector A. E. Carey appeared for the prosecution.

GUARD'S APPEAL DISMISSED

The appeal brought by Shou Hsok-chi, Shantung Anti-Piracy guard, against conviction and a fine of $300, imposed on him by Mr. Butters at Central Magistracy on a charge of possession of a quantity of dutiable Chinese liquor, was dismissed by the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, at the Supreme Court yesterday.

In his decision, His Lordship said: I have come to the conclusion that this appeal cannot succeed. I consider, in view of the evidence before the court, that if that evidence had been brought before the Magistrate, he would have been justified in convicting as he did. Further, that if he had heard appellant he would inevitably have been confirmed in his belief that the Indian constable (who made the arrest) was telling the truth.

Mr. F. H. Loseby appeared for appellant, while Mr. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, represented the Crown.

POLICE REPORTS

The loss of $403 which was in a leather suit case, on board the S.S. Haitan, has been reported to the police by Cheung To-ku, a visitor to the Colony.

It was alleged by Lau Chiu, sanitary foreman, in a report to the police, that he was assaulted by four unknown Chinese dressed in European cut-style clothing at Wing Hing Street on Wednesday afternoon.

With terrible gasps in her throat, believed to have been self-inflicted, a married woman, Lau Lan, 32, was admitted to Kowloon Hospital on Wednesday. Her first child died at birth a few days ago and it is believed that the young mother was depressed and brooded over her loss.

Rev. C.B.R. Sargent, Headmaster of the Diocesan Boys' School has reported that a messenger, Ah Fung, who was on Wednesday given $135 in notes to change into small coins, absconded with the money.

STOLE HAIR FROM HORSES' TAILS

Chu Mo-kau, 26, was brought before Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of stealing hair from ten horses' tails at the Hong Kong Riding School.

The police revealed that horses' hair had an extensive market owing to its many uses.

Pleading guilty, Chu was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

FAILED TO STOP AFTER MISHAP

For failing to stop after having knocked down a 7-year-old girl, Chung Chong, driver of a car was yesterday fined $25, in default, three weeks' imprisonment by Mr. Lockhart-Smith at the Central Court.

Serg. G. Youe said the girl had been removed to hospital. Pleading guilty, Chung said that after he felt a bump, he turned round and saw a girl pick up a dog and walk away. He thought it was not a serious matter and did not stop.

Chung was also ordered to pay compensation, failing which is to go to prison for an additional week.

FATAL MISHAP

An Army motor lorry driven by M. Gray, of the Royal Army Service Corps, knocked down a Chinese woman near the Kowloon Sports Ground on Wednesday afternoon, according to a Police report. The woman died on the way to Kowloon Hospital.

MALARIA WAS ALWAYS DREADED MALADY IN ROME

Rome, the city which for centuries was the central point of South European civilisation, has been devastated several times by epidemics.

First of all, during the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, the plague, malaria and influenza cruelly raged in Rome, being followed by famine.

Ignace de Loyola, Camillus de Lellis, Joseph de Calasanza, the protagonists of the Counter-Reformation, and their followers, did much to restrict the ravages of these scourges.

Malaria emanating from the Pontine Marshes—so sadly celebrated—was always the most dreaded malady in Rome. At this period, the water, the marshes, the fogs, the state of the atmosphere and the changes of weather were considered to be the causes of malaria. The name malaria comes from "mal'aria" (bad air).

CINCHONA BARK

Thanks to the introduction into Europe of cinchona bark, the Roman Campagna was saved.

FELL DURING CHASE

Inquiry Into Death Of Chinese

The inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of Cheung Hi, who fell while being chased and died later at the Kowloon Hospital, was continued at the Kowloon Court yesterday before Mr. Barnett as Coroner and a jury comprising Messrs. Mok Chow-tim, L. A. Rozario and Lam Shui-yip.

Sgt. Thomas Byrne, giving evidence, related how he saw deceased and two others attempting to break into a store in Bowring Street. He gave chase and took all the men into custody.

The officer said he saw deceased fall. Deceased was lying with his face down when he came up to him. He did not see deceased fall backwards nor did he attempt to strike him.

Chan Wo, a companion of deceased who is serving sentence of six months for attempted burglary, also gave evidence, after which the inquiry was adjourned till July 14.

BIG TURTLES AT TWEED BAY

Two huge turtles, one estimated to weigh about 400 pounds, and the other about 250 pounds lumbered on the beach at Tweed Bay on Wednesday night.

A party of Stanley gael warders and their wives, who were bathing at Tweed Bay, noticed the first turtle just after midnight. Warder Hill, Principal Warder Jillett and Principal Warder Plumb set out to capture it, but they found it necessary to hit the turtle on the head, and it died.

Another turtle was seen on the beach, a few minutes later. This time a hammock net was thrown over it and the turtle was captured.

Turtles are not uncommon around the beaches of Hong Kong.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

UPSET writes regarding her younger brother, whose character is weak. He is to marry a widow several years older than himself.

Dear Upset: Your brother's life is his own, and his choice of a wife must be accepted by himself for good or otherwise.

The woman you describe might in your eyes seem slightly outrageous, but to me she seems a gallant and vivid personality. Nor is she likely to harm your brother, as for the years since the death of her husband she has supported herself and earned popularity and respect.

Evidently, Upset, you have led a sheltered life and have not come in contact with those a little different from the ordinary. Remember there is often far more courage than you imagine in those who face life gaily without letting anything bow them over.

In my opinion, your brother's vacillating and weak character would be helped by anyone so strong and capable, so you should try and regard this marriage in that light and know that weak growths need props to hold them up.

CONFLICT PROBLEM

S.O.S. presents the usual problem of conflict when a young man is ardently in love with a decent and charming girl.

Dear S.O.S.: It would be better for you to explain frankly to the girl that she is unfair to you when causing unnecessary emotional disturbances. Your attitude is manly and protective, so do not indulge in any self-condemnation. Try to go out together with others, to shows, picnics, for sport and swimming, anything in which others take part, so as to lessen the hours of sitting about making love.

The girl is, as you say, entirely ignorant of life's realities and would be far better if she learned a little more.

A simple book on psychology should be read by the two of you.

UNATTENTIVE HUSBAND

WEEKEND WIDOW has reached an impasse, in mind at least, through being left alone too much by her husband, whom she loves but will have to leave, if he is not more attentive.

Dear Weekend Widow:—No wife should be left alone every weekend unless she prefers it. Could you not go away with your husband and learn to enjoy his open air jaunts? Loving him, you would suffer badly if you went away even to your mother.

Your boarding and working have much to do with your discontent. In one's own home there is too much to do to fret constantly. Learn to entertain yourself, get some friends and try to get your own home. Why not try a small flat for a time?

YOUNG MOTHER

YOUNG MOTHER writes: I am a young mother who married at 18 years of age a man five years older than myself.

We have been married for six years. After the first six months of our marriage we went to live with my husband's parents. This was caused by his inability to hold jobs or live inside his income.

After two years I went to another city and secured employment. I had my young son with me.

I have returned to my parents' home, here, with my son. I am working and have the whole financial responsibility of my child as in the past.

My husband who still lives with his family wants the child part of the time. Of course I do not wish to have this happen. What shall I do?

Dear Young Mother: The father of your child has a right to his child unless he can be proved unfit.

Is it absolutely impossible for you to attempt to rejoin your husband, get him into employment and the two of you make a home for your youngster?

Discuss this possibility with him before taking another drastic step.

If nothing comes of your honest attempts and every effort has failed, you will have to take legal action to retain sole custody of your child. I advise you at that time to seek the advice and counsel of your solicitor in this matter.

ELIGIBLE BACHELOR

BASIL writes: I am a bachelor, quite eligible, but in a most awkward situation; though my friends say it's just another example of the "eternal triangle"—with complications.

Anyway, it's like this. There are two young women, Joan and Eileen. I am torn between loyalty to each of them.

Of course, I love Eileen—but Joan came first. Should Joan have precedence? Or should I marry the one I love and sacrifice Joan?

Or do you think it would be better for me to avoid all further complications by leaving the Colony?—Yours in desperation.

P.S.—One thing I am not prepared to do—try and manage both. That, I am sure, would only lead to further complications. Besides, either Joan or Eileen would probably object.

Dear Basil: If you truly think this matter over carefully don't you find it would be wiser for you to remain a bachelor until you grow up a little more?

I believe your ego is out-doing itself in respect to your first conquest, Joan, and your loved one, Eileen. Are you sure either girl wishes to marry you?

However, if Eileen, the loved one, will marry you, do so. This will be an end to all your despair and keep you out of the like of such troubles. As for Joan, she can bear it I am sure—it's the woman who pays and pays!

P.S. It is too bad the Mormons are not abiding by their past practices. That would certainly solve your problem. The three of you could take a trip to Salt Lake City, a lovely spot, and live happily ever after.

ROUND THE SHOPS

FROM CARDS TO HATS AND WOOL TO TATS

SNOOPING along Hong Kong streets again we have run across several bits of valuable information.

Fun at a party? Then invest in a deck of "Rameses Fortune Telling Cards." There are many various combinations of fortunes to be made out of the deck. Everyone can get a boot out of this. Directions and cards will put you back $4.00, but it will be that much in amusement.

In this same shop the "Five Card Suit of Bridge" can be purchased.

Sharkskin Slacks

ARE YOU comfortable in small motor cars when wearing full skirted dresses, or have you been yearning for something to slide into on a no-dress-up Saturday or Sunday p.m.?

One of the shops has the bill filler—"slacks and blouse in sharkskin." Very well cut and tailored. The trousers are not too wide. The blouses in shirt styles of the open front with the notch lapel, others opening in the back or on the shoulder.

Turban Effect

I LIKE HATS. Do you? One of the shops has produced a prize in crepe de chine, pleated and draped in a turban effect with a veil attached which can be tied under the chin, a bow in back, left loose to tinkle your nose, or tied on top. This turban can be made up in any colour and you do not have to worry about "squashing" it.

A new material, very good for sport clothes; the trade-name, we don't know. It is a fine linen thread loosely woven (as sackings, if woven with a fine thread). It is light in weight and can be had in practically all colours.

Knitting and Needlework

HOW GOES your knitting and needlework these days?

One of the larger shops is building up a complete knitting and art needlework department. They will be very pleased to have you drop in for a visit. Instructions in your handwork, any questions pertaining to knitting, they will be only too glad to answer.

The selection of tapestry work here is very good, both in the expensive hand-painted pieces—the wool is included in the price of your tapestry in this group—and in the less expensive pieces which are stamped, and you purchase your own wool. The design is applied in colours, consequently it is lots of fun and very easy work.

Cotton Yarns

WOOL is hard to knit with these hot and sticky days. This same shop has a large selection of cotton yarns, they wash beautifully knit-up quickly and are quite the business when completed in a dress, jumper, etc.

The new "Bucilla Frappe" is exquisite in texture and very different. It is boil-proof, too. This would give you a dress for about $22.00.

A great big service which is offered in this department is the convenience of being able to return the yarn you do not use. Truly this is a big relief and eliminates the wool box we all have carted around for years.

Knitting Book

WITH ALL your purchases of wool or cotton you receive a very comprehensive knitting book which carries you along step by step in your knitting business. This department is a joy to anyone who is finger-work minded. Do go in and spend an enlightening 15 minutes the next time you are down town.

For information as to where you can purchase or see the articles mentioned, phone Barbara Lee, 24251, or write The Daily Press, enclosing a self addressed stamped envelope.

THE OLD, OLD QUESTION — Do You Dress For Men Or For The Other Women?

HEADGEAR—truly that is the word for the many different hats and head adornments being worn this summer.

Now do we dress for men or the other women? Here is that old question so much hashed out. Yet when it comes to hats, the men certainly get their ore in.

It is the most disturbing and universal of eternal triangles; woman, hat and man. The woman and the hat get along all right until the man appears on the scene. Curiously enough a man generally conceals his phobias on the subject until he has his woman safely tied in marital bonds. Some times he actually accuses her of wearing perfectly sane, sensible and becoming hats up until they were married.

A woman buys a hat. Maybe she needs one; all the others are out of shape or out of style, or they do not go with anything she has to wear. Maybe she does not need one, but can use a bit of the intoxicating exuberance that goes with a becoming, attractive new hat.

Eventually the great moment arrives. On goes the hat and the lady sallies forth.

Now, the man may be the most understanding in the world. He may even think he understands that that little thing on top of his lady's head is not a covering but some kind of heady wine to her. Yet invariably, if he doesn't just sit there with a blank face, not even the hint of a glint in his eye, his only remark is apt to be something like, "Haven't you got it on backwards?"

The beautiful illusion that was a hat dissolves in mid-air, right on your head. You appear crest fallen, he confused; and he tries to clear up the situation by suggesting that you try it on at a different angle, or maybe it is not your colour. But the pleasure has gone out of it, you just do not seem to enjoy wearing the hat now.

Sometimes we think understanding men are the worst kind. Then there is the brute who just looks at a hat and says, "You're not going out with me with that on." All told, they generally give up quietly when a new and different hat comes along.

This is a problem that has to be tackled at its roots. It is no good sending that hat back, not wearing it, or enduring the awful martyrdom of trying to wear the kind of hats men think they like. In the first place there may be a good reason why the man doesn't like your hats. Men invariably have a fine, instinctive sense of line. Of course, they are not confused or thrown off the fundamental track by all the palaver about what's new this season and what the best-dressed people are getting away with. So he may, just possibly, have some justification.

A man usually knows whether a hat is becoming or not, even though he still may think it is too dizzy for you. If the lines of a hat don't fit the contour of a woman's face, he usually knows it better than she does.

If the length of her hair is out of proportion to the size and shape of her hat, he senses it and blames it on the hat.

Though an average man wouldn't know what would be appropriate with what, his impression of a hat is pretty much determined by how becoming it is to you and how it fits in with the rest of your costume.

We carry large stocks of art and fancy needle-work requirements.

THERE'S NO SUBSTITUTE

THERE IS nothing new about the problem and hats. If the Greeks had worn hats, they'd probably have had a word for it. Rollinson was drawing ribald cartoons about women's hats in 1810. Napoleon probably was not too busy with his battles to take time out to wonder about those coal scuttles.

So, "Go To Town In Buying and Wearing Your Hats." You can take it.

Very chic is the perfectly plain pancake beret made of the same yellowish, natural straw used in men's hats. The back is black or navy blue, following the curve of the head to keep the hat clapped on. As a last bit of verve, a wide-mesh veil cascades over all.

Ah! that Poshillion hat. At a little distance, the hat looks like felt, it is entirely made of feathers, the softest, flattest tips from the Australian lyrebird, whose tail-fan is shaped like the instrument. The colour, a subtle, muted mustard which contrasted with a veil of lavender-dotted on flesh colour background, gives your skin the peaches and cream appearance.

Toques, bolivars, fezzes, mitres, tiaras, Tyrolians and sombreros—all of them can be compliments to the modern costumes.

The lights go on, you know you are going to live. All eyes will be rivetted upward by a little truc above the face. If you have white hair, tie mauve tulle over the face and hair with a bow out behind. Very good for a breezy night. Blue-black hair, try a dark bright blue ribbon, it will make it look bluer.

Reboux puts forth the Merry Widow chow of black tulle, a gay little business which goes on your head in the evening. A pleated white chiffon bandeau, twisted around your head at the right angle will make people look twice and want one too.

Do not be afraid. Anything goes, even to a silk evening pouch parked on your head with your favourite clip holding twists, gathers or pleats in place.

You can get away with any kind of headgear—remember there's no substitute for the right hat. Then hear the men howl!

IMMORTAL LOVE CLASSIC

All the delicacy, beauty and poignancy of George Du Maurier's immortal love story lives again in Paramount's picturization of "Peter Ibbetson," starring Gary Cooper in the title role, which made its debut at the Majestic theatre yesterday.

A gigantic task at best, in filming the strangest of strange novels, all concerned in the production of this fascinating fantasy deserve high praise for maintaining the dignity and ethereal atmosphere which characterized Du Maurier's classic, as well as giving it an added robustness, and warm blooded appeal in its latest screen regalia.

Although old-fashioned romance and sentiment run riot in the film,

At Junior Birdmen Rally

WHO TOLD YOU THAT?

Husband: "It would be more natural if she put her hand in my pocket."

its tendency to become saccharine in treatment is skillfully avoided by that astute director, Henry Hathaway, who gave us the highly successful "Bengal Lancer."

"ROSALIE"

In "Rosalie," which is at the King's Theatre, Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell are teamed in this tuneful melange, which varies in locale between an Army-Navy football game, West Point, and the colourful mythical kingdom of Romanza. The pairing of Eddy and Miss Powell is a brilliant feat. Not only do they dance and sing in the manner of stars of their magnitude, but as lovers they are decidedly in the top rank among romantic teams.

Ray Bolger, he of the rubber legs, is really great as comedy relief, and, of course, splendid in his comedy dancing specialties. Diana Massey is a newcomer whom players can well watch carefully.

Several slight tremors were recorded here between 2.35 and 3.49 yesterday afternoon. The centre of the disturbance was in the city.

The shocks were so slight, however, that the majority of Londoners remained unaware of the tremors.

SERIOUS INCIDENT: FUR COATS STILL IN ROME AT ASCOT

Rome, June 16.
A serious incident occurred here yesterday at a monument, erected between the Piazza Esedra and the main railway station, in honour of the Italian soldiers who laid down their lives in the first African campaign.

In northern England rain is falling in many districts, but Glasgow escaped a downpour, and large crowds attended the Glasgow Empire Exhibition, which has now been attended by over 3,000,000 people. (Reuter. Bulletin).

TWO WOMEN ARE PLACED IN
PROTECTIVE CUSTODYU.S. Spy Investigations
May Lead To Twenty-two
Indictments Being Filed

IMPORTANT MATERIAL WITNESS

New York, June 15.
It is revealed that a second woman has been placed in protective custody for a fortnight in connection with the United States' spy investigations.

The woman, whom the Federal authorities regard as their most important material witness, has been living in a hotel adjoining one of the big Long Island aerodromes. Here she made the acquaintance of a number of airmen. She also kept a local bar.

The woman is apparently unacquainted with the missing Dr. Griebel, whom Federal agents greatly desire to meet but, according to the New York Times, she knew one of the directors of the secret agents who eluded capture long before the present case was brought to the knowledge of the public.

The authorities have now renewed their interest in the suicide last February of a former high German army officer, Otto Battenberg, who was found dead on a beach, shot in the head and heart, with two pistols in his hands.

According to the New York Post the woman now in custody sent back Battenberg's body to his home in Stuttgart.

The Federal Grand Jury is expected to conclude its investigation of alleged espionage activities in the United States within the next few days. Thirty-nine witnesses have already been questioned, and it is reported that 22 indictments may be returned.—(Reuter).

CAPTURE OF CASTELLONFood Finally Arrives

Castellon, June 16.
Capture of this important port has now been completed, according to Reuter's special correspondent with the insurgent army, who witnessed scenes of rejoicing as General Franco's troops entered the city.

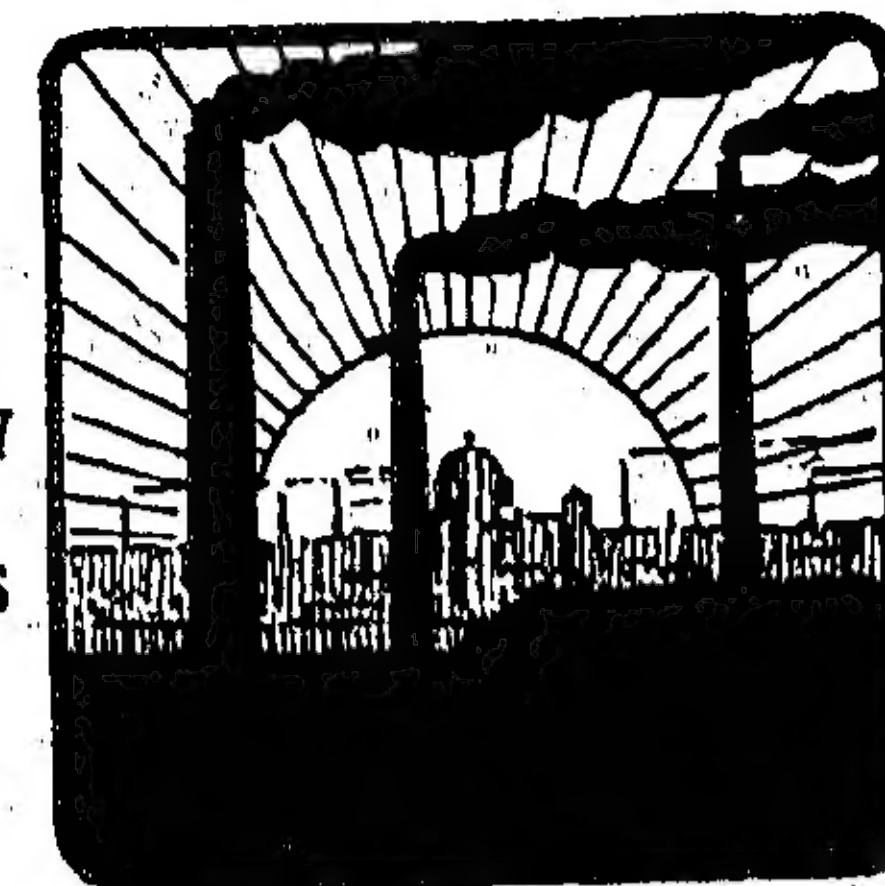

Predominant emotion was gratitude that food had finally arrived. Reuter's special correspondent having a loaf torn from his hands by hungry citizens who had not tasted bread for several days.

Food lorries, sent from every province in insurgent Spain, were besieged the moment they entered the city, which is honeycombed by elaborate subterranean air raid shelters in which the inhabitants hitherto have led a troglodyte existence.

Many women passed the time altering the red, yellow and purple Republican flag to Gen. Franco's red, yellow and red colours in preparation for his capture of the town.—(Reuter).

AUSTRIAN LOAN PUBLIC AUCTION.
NEGOTIATIONS

London, June 15.

Referring in the House of Commons this evening to the Austrian loan negotiations, Mr. Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, said it was impossible at present to make any announcement with regard to the nature of the action likely to be taken by Great Britain. Such action, he said, must clearly depend upon circumstances.

The British Government still hoped that negotiations would reach a successful conclusion, but traders must recognise that there might be difficulties in obtaining payments after the end of June, and must therefore use discretion in accepting any new commitments which might result in an accumulation of debts in Germany.—(Reuter).

FACT UNSATISFACTORY

London, June 15.

Disappointment with the working of the Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement was expressed in the House of Commons tonight by Mr. Oliver Stanley.

Replying in the debate on trade Mr. Stanley said that the letter of the Agreement was being observed but it was being carried out in the proportion of re-exports to exports manufactured in Great Britain, which did not represent the spirit in which Great Britain had believed the Agreement was going to be carried out.

Mr. Stanley disclosed that he was now discussing this most important question with those whose interests were most affected by the course of trade with Russia.—(Reuter).

Mr. E. V. M. R. de Sousa has received instructions to sell the following properties.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA
"MINORITIES"
PROBLEMBritish Hopes For Settlement

London, June 5.

The Prime Minister, asked in the House of Commons if the Government would make it clear they did not entertain frontier revision as a possible contribution to a solution of the problem of minorities in Czechoslovakia, replied: "His Majesty's Government are not prepared to lay down conditions which would, in their opinion, be appropriate to a solution of the problem of minorities in Czechoslovakia."

"This is a matter which is now being discussed between the Government of Czechoslovakia and representatives of the Sudeten German Party and His Majesty's Government sincerely hope these discussions will result in an agreed settlement."—(British Wireless).

Force Should Not Be Used To Induce Japan To Abandon Canton BombingsSTATEMENT BY BISHOP MEETS
WITH JEERING AND HECKLING

London, June 15.

At a meeting of the China Campaign Committee, held at Queen's Hall, the Right Rev. Henry Albert Wilson D.D., the 61-year-old Bishop of Chelmsford, was subjected to prolonged jeering and heckling when he urged that force should not be used to induce Japan to abandon the bombings of Canton, but that an attempt should be made to convince the Japanese that they were losing face throughout the world.

Mr. Victor Gollancz, Chairman and Governing Director of Victor Gollancz Limited, referred to the Japanese Ambassador's answer to the China Campaign Committee deputation yesterday that the bombings were undertaken to demoralise the Chinese people.

Mr. Gollancz declared that it was one of the most terrible statements ever made by an Ambassador in a civilised country.

After the meeting, numbers marched to the Japanese Embassy carrying placards bearing the words, "Stop the bombing. Boycott Japanese goods."—(Reuter).

CASUALTY FIGURES
INCOMPLETE

London, June 15.

Questioned in the House of Commons regarding the effects of the air attacks on Canton, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs said that official estimates of casualties received up to the present were incomplete but reports indicated that between 3,500 and 4,000 persons were killed and wounded between May 28 and June 10.

As the House was aware, His Majesty's Government had protested to the Japanese Government against indiscriminate bombing of civilian areas and thickly populated centres.

Asked in a supplementary question, if a reply had been received to the protest, Mr. Butler said that certain preliminary observation had been made to the British Ambassador by the Japanese Foreign Minister who had promised to send a considered reply.—(British Wireless).

ATTACK ON CIVILISATION

Paris, June 16.

"We consider the inhuman bombardments being carried out in Spain and China an attack on civilisation," declared M. Edouard Daladier, addressing the Radical Socialist Party Executive last night.

"I believe any conflict can be settled by pacific methods, on the condition that one party is not taken by surprise. It was thus, as a result of the London conversations and a diplomatic plan of action drawn up, which enabled us to overcome the first difficulties in Czechoslovakia," he recalled.—(Reuter).

LAMMERT BROS.,
AUCTIONEERS.HOUSING OF LEPERSQuestion By The Hon. Dr. S.F. Li

Votes totalling $167,612 were approved by the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council at a meeting held in the Council Chamber yesterday when a suggestion was made by the Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan that all applications for free X-Ray photographs should be thoroughly investigated before such applications were granted.

Dr. Li's question arose out of an item asking for $2,700 for running expenses and maintenance in connection with the Medical Department. It was stated that a provision of $16,500 was made in the estimates but the continued increase of work in the Radiological Sub-department made this amount insufficient.

The Hon. Mr. N.L. Smith, Colonial Secretary, explained that the question of engaging almoners was now being very actively considered by the Government.

POLICE PLAYGROUND

In connection with an item for $2,300 for Public Works Extraordinary, Recreation grounds, it was stated that this amount was required for fencing in the new recreation ground for the Police in Kowloon.

The Hon. Mr. Leo d'Almada, Jnr., asked if that was not too big an amount for this purpose.

Hon. Mr. R.M. Henderson explained that if a fence was not put round the ground children were apt to go and play on it and thus the turf would be worn out very easily. The cost of returning every now and again would be too great and it was because of this that the vote was being asked. In conclusion Mr. Henderson added that the Police were themselves bearing half the cost of the expenses.

HOUSING LEPERS

Under the heading of charitable service a vote of $9000 was asked to provide for the maintenance of lepers in the Tung Wah Hospital.

The Hon. Dr. Li Shu-fan said he had gone into the matter and found that while the cost per head for the maintenance of lepers in the Tung Wah Hospital was $9, it was only $5 at the settlement in Sheklung. He asked if it would not be possible for the Government to come to some arrangement with the authorities in Sheklung as the saving of almost 50 per cent was highly desirable.

In reply the Hon. Mr. N.L. Smith said that the matter was already receiving the attention of the Government.

EXHAUSTIVE SEARCH FOR ANTI-JAPANESE
ELEMENTS

Hankow, June 16.

Many arrests have been made in Peking by Japanese gendarmes and police of the puppet administration in the exhaustive search for anti-Japanese elements, according to a message from Tientsin.

A teacher of the Yu Ying Middle School was taken into custody when a pamphlet in commemoration of the last National Athletic Meet held in Nanking was found in his room.

Many others, who possessed issues of popular magazines, were also arrested.—(Central News).

BLIND BEGGAR
AND
HIS BENEFACTORAsked For Alms In Grounds Of
Rosary ChurchRELUCTANT TO LIVE
IN STRANGER'S HOME

When Chung Loi, 52-year-old blind beggar, appeared at the Kowloon Court for the first time on Monday, he was charged before Mr. Barnett with begging by the gate of the Rosary Church, Chatham Road. An Indian constable testified that he had seen Chung Loi hold out a cigarette tin into which two Portuguese ladies had dropped coins.

The question arose as to whether Chung Loi had been begging for alms outside or inside the gate of the Rosary Church. If he had been begging in the grounds of the Church, the Crown would have no case against him. The case was remanded for 24 hours.

On the following day, Chung Loi was again in the dock. A witness, a Hakka caretaker of the Church grounds, was called, but did not appear. Chung Loi said that he would not beg again if he was discharged, unwittingly admitting that he was begging. The case was remanded to the following day.

When Chung Loi appeared in the dock for the third time he heard evidence being given that he had begged within the grounds of the Church. The Hakka caretaker also said that he had given the cigarette tin to Chung Loi.

The Magistrate told Chung Loi that he would be discharged if he could give any surety that he would no longer be a beggar.

Chung Loi said that he had relatives, a wife and a daughter, whom he had lost, this wife leaving him and taking his daughter away with her. The Magistrate ordered a search instituted for the missing relatives.

Chung Loi appeared for the fourth time yesterday. In the Courtroom was Chan Pui, a detective attached to the Central Station. He revealed that he had adopted Chung Loi's daughter and would also take Chung Loi into his home. Chung Loi was reluctant to go into the home of a stranger.

The Magistrate bound him over to be of good conduct for an year on a bond of $25, the bond to be considered broken, should Chung Loi leave the house of Chan Pui.

Chung Loi had then no choice but to live in the home of his benefactor.

SHANGHAI LIFE
RETURNING
TO NORMALForeign Property
Respected

In the course of a brief interview with a foreign Customs official from Shanghai yesterday, a Daily Press representative was told that life is returning to normal in Shanghai.

Foreigners are allowed to enter the Hongkew district without having to present a pass, and foreign property is being respected.

Business, though, is at a standstill and with the present decrease in the value of the Chinese dollar the business situation is getting rather critical.

Questioned regarding the Customs situation, our informant said that everything is normal at present. More Japanese are being added on to the staff of the service, although the Chinese staff are not in any way being relieved of their posts. "The position is the same as it was before the hostilities," he said.

Giving his opinion on the imminence of the South China invasion, the Customs official said that he did not think the Japanese would make a land attack on Canton. "It is strategic," he said referring to the bombings. "The Japanese want to keep the Chinese army away from the North, which is more important to them than Canton, therefore they are trying to bluff the Chinese into sending their troops down here."

SINGAPORE
RESIDENTS
RETIRINGSir Geo. Trimmer And
Dr. J.S. WebsterTRIBUTES PAID BY GOVERNOR

Two well-known Singapore residents, Sir George Trimmer and Dr. J. S. Webster, are retiring from Malaya shortly.

Reference to this was made by His Excellency the Governor, Sir Shenton Thomas, in his speech at the annual meeting of the Union Jack Club, Singapore.

Sir George Trimmer, who has been in Malaya 27 years, has been chairman and general manager of the Singapore Harbour Board since 1923, says the Times of Malaya.

Sir George Trimmer, who was knighted last year, began his engineering career on the staff of the Bakerloo tube railway in London.

After serving in various parts of England, he went to India in 1904 on irrigation construction at Diamond Harbour, Bengal, and later at Mon Canals, Maymo district, Burma.

Sir George Trimmer was chief engineer of the latest West wharf extension, providing additional wharfage for Singapore at a cost of £1,000,000.

A few months ago Sir George Trimmer was appointed chairman of a committee to inquire into Singapore traffic problems. He told the Times of Malaya recently that he hopes the reports of this committee will be ready for presentation to the Governor in about a fortnight's time.

Dr. Webster did gas training on active service during the Great War.

Appearing on charges of possession of 20 tins of prepared opium and 82 tins of raw opium, Wong Ching, aged 25, was fined $4,000, in default one year's hard labour by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday.

TWO LOTS OF AIR MAIL
DUE TODAY

The Imperial Airways' Daedalus arrived at Kai Tak yesterday evening, carrying Australian, India and Burma mail.

No English mail was carried aboard the Daedalus because of a breakdown on the London air mail run.

An official of the local branch of Imperial Airways said that the reason for the delay was probably because of the forced landing made by the flying boat Ceres in India several days ago.

Because the other two planes on the Bangkok-Hong Kong run are undergoing annual overhaul, another plane has been taken over from the India service to replace these two planes.

This afternoon, the Della will arrive from Bangkok with two lots of English mail, one of them being the mail delayed by the forced landing in India.

Cholera Epidemic In India

Simla, June 15.
The cholera epidemic in India is assuming serious proportions. During the last ten weeks, 25,000 cases have been reported in the United Provinces, of which 12,000 were fatal.

Other parts of the country are affected to a lesser extent. Cases have also been reported from Afghanistan, but an early monsoon is expected to check the spread of the epidemic.—(Reuter).

FUKIEN COAST SHELLED

Foochow, June 16.
A lone Japanese warship opened up on the main land at the mouth of the Min River on June 14. Most of the Japanese warships off the coast here have now steamed away, leaving only one vessel behind.—(Central News).

MODEL AEROPLANE CLUB

The Hong Kong Model Aeroplane Club is expanding its activities. Instead of just a discussion group, as it has been since the formation of the club nearly a year ago, it is to be reconstituted in a proper manner and is to have a committee to take care of its affairs.

At the fortnightly meeting held yesterday, elaborate schemes were proposed to maintain the enthusiasm of members. Mr. F. S. Austin, the founder of the club has written to Z.B.W. in the hope that announcements will be made regarding test flights.

The club is to have its annual competition sometime next January. It is suggested that "only" aeroplanes of no less than six ounces and 200 square inches be allowed. A handsome prize, a sum of $40, will be awarded to the winner. The competition is open for members of the club, but at the same time another competition will also be organised for non-members.

FEAST OF CORPUS CHRISTI

CATHOLICS PRAY FOR CESSATION OF WAR

The Feast of Corpus Christi was celebrated at the St. Mary's Girls' School, Austin Road, yesterday with an open air service followed by a procession.

Father Grunelli, Rector of St. Teresa's Church, led the service and a sermon was delivered by Father De Angelis, the subject being "The Love of Jesus."

Father De Angelis asked the assembly to pray for the cessation of hostilities in the present war saying, "We know that mothers and children are being butchered and slaughtered day by day and we can help little in any other way but by prayer."

JAPANESE PLANES BOMB SINYANG

Sinyang, Honan, June 16.
A squadron of nine Japanese planes staged an air raid over Sinyang, 302 kilometres south of Chengchow on the Peiping-Hankow Railway, yesterday.

Chinese anti-aircraft batteries went into action, and drove the invaders away.

A fleet of nine other Japanese aircraft, in the meantime, bombed Sinyang on the Han River, in north Hupeh.—(Central News).

FRENCH ENVOY PLANS SECOND HANKOW VISIT

Hankow, June 16.
Before taking off for Hong Kong by plane this morning, M. Paul Emile Naglar, French Ambassador to China, said that he hoped to make a second visit to Hankow in the near future.—(Central News).

DRUGS AS WELL AS BOMBS

But the citizens of the United States are incensed not only by the Canton bombings but also by the actions of the Japanese in fostering the spread of narcotics in China and Manchuria.

At the meeting of the Opium Advisory Committee of the League of Nations this week, Mr. Stuart J. Fuller, Assistant Chief Secretary of the Far Eastern Division of the U.S. Department of State, declared that illicit opium traffic was flourishing in those regions of China now under Japanese control.

Mr. Fuller demanded that the Committee request an immediate explanation from Japan as to the uses to which 400,000 lbs. of opium from Iran consigned to the Japanese army, will be put.

OTHER illustrations of the intensity of world feeling against Japan are provided by the banning of the export of iron ore from Australia to Japan, the demand by the Workers' Group of the International Labour Office at Geneva that all governments implement the League resolutions on aid to China, and by the largely-attended meeting of protest held in Hong Kong last evening.

But now that the democratic nations have come to realise the threat by Japan to world peace, protests are not enough.

Definite action must be taken to curb the Japanese militarists. Supplies of war materials to Japan must be stopped and China must be given technical and financial assistance.

MORE BOMBS ON CANTON

Missiles Dropped Near School And Hospital

Canton, June 16.
Only a very fortunate chance prevented serious loss of life last night in the vicinity of St. Hilda's School, as six bombs fell within a very narrow area.

The missiles narrowly missed Dr. Scheyer's German Hospital, Sun Yat-sen University and Holy Trinity College.

Several of these premises had their walls cracked and windows broken, while a Chinese temple in the vicinity collapsed on the occupants, who were fortunately sheltering in a house-made dugout and escaped uninjured.

All six bombs fell so close to each other that it seems they were released together from one plane.

Further afield, bombs fell on well-to-do residences in the suburbs beyond Central Park, destroying houses and apartment buildings.

Casualties in all cases were provisionally slight, owing to the recent large-scale evacuations.

A DIRECT HIT

In the course of last night's raids, two bombs dropped in the compound of St. Hilda's Girls' School, the property of the Church Missionary Society.

One building suffered a direct hit, being totally demolished, and others were seriously damaged.

Fortunately there were no casualties, as the school had been previously evacuated, being in the danger zone.

Almost all schools and universities in Canton have now emptied, and Ling Nam University, which previously housed 500 students, now contains a mere 60.—(Reuter).

SCHOOL SUFFERS

Canton, June 16.
Several houses owned by foreigners in Pa Rze Road, Tungshan were bombed this morning. Tung Ping Road, near Fah Tsze Road, was also bombed in the small hours of this morning.

Two bombs landed on the playground of St. Hilda's Girls' School in Ta Tung Road, an institution run by the Church Missionary Society of London. One building and a kitchen were demolished.—(Our Own Correspondent).

CHINA'S NOTE ISSUE AND RESERVE

Hankow, June 16.
The total amount of notes issued by the four Government banks, namely, the Central Bank of China, the Bank of China, the Bank of Communications and the Farmers Bank of China, up to May 29 was $705,322,789, according to a report issued today by the Currency Reserve Commission.

The total reserves against the note issue were $1,705,326,789, of which $1,113,852,182.54 were cash reserves and $591,470,606.46 security reserves.—(Central News).

ESCALATION DISCUSSIONS PROCEEDING

London, June 15.
Asked in the House of Commons whether His Majesty's Government had reached any agreement with the Government of the United States on the size of battleships and heavy guns, the Prime Minister said that escalation discussions were still proceeding and, pending their conclusion, it was not possible to make any statement.

The question of whether any efforts had been made to secure Japan's agreement not to exceed those maximum figures did not, therefore, at present arise although His Majesty's Government would naturally bear in mind that particular aspect of the matter.—(British Wireless).

CANADIAN ACTS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Ottawa, June 16.
The Canadian Premier, Mr. McKenzie King, stated today that two more acts passed by the Alberta Government had been declared unconstitutional.

The acts in question are the Owners Security Act and the Securities Tax Act.—(Reuter).

Caught by the police while cutting down a branch of a tree at Pokfulam Road, Ng Yek, was yesterday fined $200, in default, three months' imprisonment by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday.

JAPAN AND HER PRISONERS OF WAR

AN HONOURABLE USAGE ABANDONED

(TO THE EDITOR OF THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN)

Sir.—The present conflict in China naturally invites comparison with the Great War. It is spread over an even wider area, and though the number of combatants engaged is smaller the populations of the warring countries show less disparity. But the contrasts are greater than the likenesses, and in no respect are these so remarkable as in the numbers of prisoners of war.

In the Great War, enormous though the casualties were, it was usual for men to accept capture rather than massacre and the number of prisoners was very great. So far in the Sino-Japanese war we have heard nothing of the taking of prisoners or of their disposal, and, though this has been remarked upon once or twice, it has not received the attention that it deserves.

There is a synthetic tradition that the Japanese are such gluttons for glory that they are never taken prisoner. Few, it is true, were taken in the war with Russia, but this was due mainly to their tactics being careful rather than dashing—a principle which has much to commend it.

There were one or two revealing glimpses at Shanghai in 1932, however. The 19th Route Army fought so stubbornly that it did much to dispel the legend of Japanese invincibility. One day there was an unmistakable Japanese retreat, and a Major Kuga was wounded in the head and deserted by his men. The Chinese picked up the major, attended to him in the field hospital, and sent him on to Nanking, where they nursed him back to health, and then handed him back to the enemy! But the major had to atone for dimming the glory of the legend. He was sent to the place where he had been captured, with orders to blow out his brains there, and an orderly was sent with him to see that he did it.

He left behind a letter saying that he hoped that his young wife (who was expecting a baby) would be treated with consideration. History does not say whether she was. Such is the ruthlessness with which a tradition, originally fabulous, is supported.

TOO MANY WITNESSES

If the question were put to a Japanese whether it was because the Chinese were similarly valiant that they too were never taken prisoner he would laugh sardonically and say that it was rather because their discretion never permitted them to be taken; but there are too many witnesses to the shooting in cold blood of hundreds of prisoners at a time, many of them civilians, for that explanation to be acceptable even to Japan's most undiscriminating friends.

A frequent feature of Japanese reports is that great trouble has been caused by Chinese soldiers "disguising themselves as ordinary peasants," the supposition that captured peasants or coolies are really soldiers being simply a formal excuse for shooting them out of hand.

In the "China Press" of Shanghai in the latter part of April, there appeared a long article on the great fight that raged round Talerchwang, a struggle that the writer compared (a little prematurely in view of the subsequent result) with the battle of Tannenberg. In the course of his description of the fighting the writer says:

The morning of April 7 saw the Chinese forces further closing in and intensifying their onslaught. The main body of the Japanese Itagaki and Isogai divisions was terribly crushed. Between 5,000 and 8,000 Japanese corpses were found on the battlefield.

Several thousands of Japanese wounded were left behind by their medical officers, who had previously escaped. Lying in pools of blood and groaning for pain, these enemy wounded were absolutely helpless. Their sad plight was indeed beyond description.

Whereupon the Chinese Army medical units, true to the spirit of humanitarianism, rescued them, gave them first-aid treatment, and later sent them to Chinese field hospitals, although the latter were already crowded by Chinese wounded soldiers.

Also on the battlefield were found a large number of Japanese soldiers who had been reduced to such straits of starvation that they could hardly move. They were made captives and were given food by the Chinese.

MILITARY HONOUR

Naturally but little news of this sort gets through. There is good reason to believe, however, that while the Japanese treat the Chinese with no humanity whatever, but slaughter them without giving them a chance to surrender—or even after they have surrendered—the Chinese in the present war, as in 1932, have shown a much higher standard of military honour. The incident at Amoy, which the Japanese have denied with so much self-righteousness, has been repeated hundreds of times. Where the Chinese have made captives they have, in spite of the strategic disadvantages of showing humanity to an invader, acted in a civilised manner. These things should not be forgotten.—Yours, etc.,

A. MORGAN YOUNG.

U.S. Exports Of Copper To Japan

HIGHEST FIGURE OF ESSENTIAL WAR MATERIAL

Washington, June 15.
The resentment of peace organisations which recently made representations to the State Department against American aid for Japanese war machines mounted today in the light of latest figures showing the United States exports of copper during April.

A total weight of 78,000,000 lbs. was exported, of which approximately 32,000,000 went to Japan, 14,000,000 to Britain and 5,000,000 to Germany. 32,000,000 represents the highest figure yet of this essential war material.—(Reuter).

CHINA RESIDENTS URGE MEASURES TO RESTRAIN CIVILIAN BOMBINGS

Canton Committee's Effort To Mobilise World Opinion

The Canton Committee for Justice has sent an air mail letter this week to a selected list of people in all parts of the world giving them information regarding the recent bombings in Canton. The letter is as follows:—

We send this letter by air mail in the hope that those who receive it will act quickly and do something to restrain the militarists of Japan from the policy they are following in Canton of bombing business and residential sections, resulting in the death of thousands of civilians and the wounding of an even larger number.

Cantonese feel themselves at the mercy of bombers which have in recent days been dropping bombs without much hindrance from anti-aircraft guns. Until recently bombs have for the most part been dropped either on the railway lines or on factories. But recently bombs have been frequently dropped in crowded sections of the city, causing much loss of life and filling the hospitals with wounded.

Most of those who are dead and wounded came from the poorer families of the city. For many of them a wound, which makes it impossible for them to make a living, may be even worse than death.

LIVING LOST

In the men's ward of the Canton Hospital is a shoemaker who has lost an arm. This means he has lost his means of making a living. It affects his family, also, who depend on him for support.

In the corner of the ward is another man who groans, not because of the pain which has come with the amputation of his leg but because, as he tells us, he has six children, the oldest of whom is ten years of age, all whom will not eat unless he can carry on his work of selling fruit along the streets, a means of livelihood which is made difficult by the loss of a leg.

In the ward for women and children is a child four months old, its foot partly shot off by a piece of a bomb which went through the mother's body while she was nursing the baby. The child lives, the mother died. On a nearby bed is a 16-year-old girl with a beautiful face. She is a seamstress whose leg has been amputated above the knee because of an injury received when the humble home in which she was living was destroyed by a bomb.

RED CROSS CASUALTIES

In another room are two Red Cross workers, both of them injured when helping in rescue work. One Red Cross worker was killed when a bomb exploded in front of the Red Cross Headquarters last Monday.

This same bomb scattered bodies of more than a hundred people, nearly all of them among the poor of Canton's population, who had taken shelter under the porch of a large building. Pieces of their bodies were scattered about an area of two hundred yards square.

We wish to urge that each person who receives this letter starts immediately to get together a meeting of people of his or her community to discuss what can be done to bring pressure to bear on Japan to keep her military leaders from bombing the civilians of a city far removed from the armies at war. Such a meeting might well discuss means of weakening Japan by means of an economic boycott, ways of supplying China with means of defense and relief funds for Chinese who are suffering from the war.

Emphasise the fact that China will fight the war against Japan. We do not need to send Western soldiers to China. Point out the wisdom of helping China to defeat Japan. This will make it unnecessary to spend the millions of dollars which some nations have appropriated to build battleships for the war which their navies expect to fight with Japan in the future.

REPUBLICANS ADMIT LOSS OF CASTELLON

Troops Withdraw To Valencia

Valencia, June 16.

Government circles admit the insurgent occupation of Castellon, adding that Republican troops have withdrawn southward in the direction of Valencia, which has been subjected to repeated air raids.

It is reported that the residential quarters of Castellon were only slightly damaged by insurgent artillery bombardment prior to its capture.

Two raids were made on Barcelona this morning in which 12 persons were reported to have been injured. (Reuter).

LOST DIVISION

Paris, June 16.
Six thousand members of the Spanish Republican "Lost Division" crossed the border into France today, 2,000 are arriving at Fabian Gede and 4,000 crossing the frontier to Aragon by the Gela Pass. (Reuter).

NEW DEFENCE CHIEF FOR SOUTH CHINA

Gen. Ho Ying-ching To Take Command

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, June 16.
General Ho Ying-ching, Minister of War, will shortly come to Canton to assume charge of the defence of the provinces of Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Fukien. It was learned today.

An earlier report stated that General Chen Cheng, former Garrison Commander of the Wuhan Area, would be appointed to this post, but General Chen has now assumed the Chairmanship of Kupeh Province.

Apart from threatening to occupy Canton, the Japanese have announced the imminent invasion of Foochow. Although Canton is ready for attack, the threat is not taken seriously, as it is considered that the Japanese will not be able to spare the necessary men for such an expedition.

BERLIN'S NEW JEW DRIVE

Large Numbers Arrested

Berlin, June 16.

The suggested new drive against Jews in Berlin is now under way and large numbers of Jews have been arrested.

Jewish shopkeepers are preparing lists of their goods for submission to the Government. The order has aroused fears that their property might be confiscated. (Reuter).

CATHOLICS INDIGNANT AT CLOSING OF SCHOOLS

Hankow, June 16.
Chinese and foreign Catholics are indignant at the closing of the Catholic Girls' and Boys' Middle Schools by order of the Peiping Puppet government after their refusal to participate in the celebrations of the fall of Hsuehchow and are considering appropriate measures to counter-act the high-handed action, according to a message from Tientsin. (Central News).

HONG KONG RESIDENTS DENOUNCE BOMBINGS

is precisely on the grounds of religion and humanity that I wish to protest against such a glaring violation of this divine law as we are now witnessing in the cruel war that is being waged against the Chinese Republic and particularly in the bombardment from the air that is bringing death and unspeakable sufferings to the civil population of Canton.

Even when a war is legitimate, civilisation and humanity fix a limit to the methods that may be used, and the most elementary laws of civilisation and humanity demand that the greatest possible care should always be taken with regard to non-combatants, and that cities should not be bombed for the purpose of trying to demoralise the civil population.

Taking into consideration all the explanations that have been given and all the excuses that have been made for the bombing of Canton, the reports published in our papers about these bombings show that there was a flagrant violation of the fifth Commandment of God: "Thou shalt not kill!" (Applause).

DR. CADBURY

A graphic description of the past few weeks of terror in Canton, one rendered all the more poignant by virtue of the simple yet very clear language he used, was given by Dr. W. W. Cadbury of the Canton Hospital.

Dr. Cadbury said, in part:—
For nine days the invaders brought death and destruction to the citizens of this open city. One day's toll of casualties brought to the Canton Hospital, actually registered, 154. Hundreds of others were treated elsewhere. Those killed numbered thousands and some are still buried under fallen houses.

Let us talk with some of the victims. Here is a doctor who was helping in the Red Cross. He was struck down when a bomb fell in front of the Red Cross headquarters. He is lying, both legs horribly mangled. His wife and little boy stand beside him weeping. We relieve his pain—that is all. Next, a man with one leg helplessly crushed. He is bleeding so I pulled the tourniquet tighter and he is hurried to the operating table.

Newspaper men who had covered Nanking, Soochow and other northern cities, declare that this is the worst massacre in this or any other war.

Five times the airmen dove over the French hospital with the tricolour clearly painted on the roof. Two bombs hit and destroyed the X-ray room laboratory and operating theatre. All was in readiness to perform operations. Crowds driven away from shelters near the hospital fled to the Wing On Tong, a newly-built concrete building. The airmen power-dived and dropped a bomb close-by, and then another in the river crowded with sampans. Scores of men, women and children were killed here alone.

"IT DIDN'T HAPPEN!"
I shall not describe again the tragedy of the sewing factory in Sai Hwang, where 100 women and children were buried to death and many more horribly mangled. The Japanese spokesman will tell you, "It didn't happen!" was he there? Did he see what we saw? And what our hands handled?

In 1923 the whole world was horrified by the report of a great earthquake that brought death and destruction to the great cities of Tokyo and Yokohama. China, Great Britain, America with other nations poured their gifts to aid the stricken Japanese people. Now these same Japanese, through their military leaders, have launched a far more terrible attack upon Canton.

Not words but deeds prove the ultimate result of the "China Incident." Every dollar loaned to Japan, every gallon of oil, every ton of iron sold, will be diverted to the aerial attack upon the people of this land. Their blood will be on the head of every man, woman or child who helps the airmen in this deadly undertaking. (Loud applause).

BISHOP HALL

Bishop Hall said in part:—
It is our duty who live so near to what is going on, to protest that these things must not be. It was the sinking of the "Lusitania" that roused a great democracy in a previous war. The continual bombing of open cities and villages may have a similar effect upon the democratic world today. (Hear Hear).

To our friends in England we beg in Hong Kong who are near to the terrible effects of bombing have two messages. The first is this: Neutral enquiry into bombing must include China as well as Spain. Secondly, it is time for idealism in international affairs to raise its head again.

There is only one defence against the bombing of civilians, and that is not a gas mask or a decontamination squad, but concerted action against the perpetrators of such horrors. (Applause). One of the scenes in Canton last week was described by a neutral observer as though a bomb had fallen in a well-stocked butcher's shop.

In the name of God, let us waken the world to realise these things and make an end of its madness. (Loud applause).

REV. N. V. HALWARD

Rev. Halward, who has also seen much of the sufferings of the people of Canton, said:—

My friends I come to speak to you this evening wearing the badge of a Scout. It is a badge I have always been proud to wear in the past because the Scout Movement for me has always stood for international friendship and brotherhood.

I also speak to you as a priest of the Christian Church and I am reminded that Our Lord once said "Whoever shall offend one of these my little ones it is better for him that a millstone be placed around his neck and that he be cast into the sea." Having seen the mutilated bodies of children amidst the ruins of their homes my heart has been filled with horror and shame at the thought, that human beings could be so devilish.

And so as one who has been on the spot in Canton and has personally seen some of the horrors perpetrated by the Japanese during the past fortnight I have no hesitation in saying that the Japanese say in defence of their murderous and indiscriminate attacks on a practically defenceless civilian population living in an open city which is nothing but the commercial centre for South China.

MONSTROUS LIES

In the majority of cases bombs have fallen not on military or even government objectives or anywhere near them, but on crowded civilian areas. This can be vouched for by many foreigners who like myself have gone out to render what help we could in bombed civilian areas.

We have seen the mangled remains of scores of civilians—men, women and children—and many wounded from the effect of bomb explosions, and for the Japanese to say that casualties were caused by Chinese anti-aircraft fire is a monstrous lie.

The Japanese have also stated that in numerous cases the Chinese authorities have set up military and government establishments in close proximity to foreign property throughout the city of Canton. This again is an absolute lie, as practically all the foreign property owned in Canton is either in Shamen or Pak Hok Tung and Lingnan which are both on the outskirts of the city. Within the city, apart from three hospitals and the large compound surrounding the Roman Catholic Cathedral, there is practically no foreign property at all.

I would urge that it is high time that the Governments of Great Britain, France and the United States of America and other countries should take strong action to restrain Japan in her campaign of aggression in which so many thousands of innocent civilians are suffering.

MR. GEORGE SHE

Mr. She said in part:—
If you will study the history of military tactics or consider international law and usage governing warfare, you will realise how revolutionary and unorthodox is this new contention of the Japanese army that once a city is held to possess military objectives then it can be laid to ruins irrespective of the size of its civilian population or of the fact that it contains a large number of women and children.

There is a further danger about acquiescing in the contention that a city like Canton can justifiably be bombed because it contains military objectives, and it is this. How are we to define what is a "military objective" and who is to define it?

Is a girls' school a military objective simply because little children may tell flowers to buy war weapons? Is a newspaper office with its ceaseless issue of fiery editorials a military objective? Is a city protected by anti-aircraft guns (which can only defend and not attack), a military objective? Is an unarmed city that contains a railway sending arms to the front a military objective such that many of its civilian populations may be destroyed with impunity? If so, it will not be very difficult for any aggressor to justify the bombing of any city anywhere in the world. For if Canton can be bombed for the reason given by the Japanese, what is there to prevent Hong Kong from sharing the same fate? (Hear, Hear). If we do not raise the voice of protest against this deterioration in war practice and the disregard of the customs of civilized nations, then these very walls will cry out.

If once we acquiesce in the bombing of a city because it is held to contain military objectives then "war" and "massacre" are synonymous terms. (Applause).

RESISTANCE TO THE END

The meeting was then thrown open.
Mr. Walter Hemming Chen said: As one who has seen some of the most disastrous bombing of Nanking and who has undergone this, I would like simply to say a few words of thanks for holding this meeting.
I can assure you that in spite of Japan's threats to beat us to our knees with her barbaric tactics we will not allow ourselves to be intimidated. We will continue this war of resistance to the very end. (Applause).

FLASHED OVER THE WORLD

Mrs. E. M. Sando, Hon. Secretary of the League of Nations Society, said those who had attended and had shown their support could show it even more if they would report out from the newspapers the report of the meeting and send it to their friends here and elsewhere. She hoped news of the meeting would be flashed all over the world.
Mr. S. V. Boxer suggested that a report of the meeting should be printed. Dr. Montgomery said the idea would be considered.
The resolution was then proposed and passed with acclamation.

Why Chinese Embassy In Tokyo Closed

RETURNING CHARGE D'AFFAIRES ON CURRENT CONDITIONS

Shanghai, June 16.

The Chinese Embassy was closed on May 29 because the names of the Embassy Staff were kept out of the diplomatic list and mails to Chinese diplomatic officials were detained, said Mr. Yang Yun-chu, Charge d'Affaires, who proceeded to Hong Kong today with his staff en route to Hankow.

"We wouldn't care to remain in Japan except to protect the remaining Chinese residents there," said Mr. Yang. "There are about ten thousand Chinese in Japan, who are engaged in petty trade such as running barber shops, selling marine products and cotton goods."

"All Chinese residents are required to fly the defunct five-colour flag, and only the Embassy flew the Kuomintang ensign."

WANTS TO END WAR

Japan wants to end the war as quickly as possible, Mr. Yang asserted. This is due to the exhaustion of Japanese resources, said the diplomat, while many Japanese do not know what they are fighting for.

Declaring that the policy of Foreign Minister General Ugaki would lead to nowhere, Mr. Yang said that the Minister wished to be friendly with Great Britain and the United States and to adjust relations with Soviet Russia. Mr. Yang said that Japan depended on Germany and Italy to develop heavy industries in North China, but this stand was opposed by many people in Japan. (International).

Dean Wilson, who, Dr. Montgomery said, had been largely responsible for bringing the meeting into being, then proposed a vote of thanks to the speakers and to the Press.

In declaring the meeting adjourned, Dr. Montgomery said the matter would now be left in the hands of the League of Nations Committee in Hong Kong to decide where the protest was to be sent, they would do their best to send it to as many people and as influential people as they could.

GAS USED BY JAPANESE

Chinese Soldiers Killed

Tungwan, June 16.

Mustard and tear gases were freely brought into use by the Japanese army in an effort to break through the strong Chinese cordon at Honan, in southern Shanxi, yesterday.

The employment of poison gases by the Japanese Army has greatly enraged the rank and file of the Chinese troops, who have sworn to take Houma at any cost.

Chinese troops equipped with gas masks sustained only slight losses. A platoon of Chinese dare-to-die soldiers who had not adjusted their masks in time were killed by the effect of the poison gases. (International).

SITUATION IN TUNIS

Tunis, June 16.

M. Armand Guillon, the Resident General of Tunis, had a lengthy conversation yesterday with General Hanote, the Commander of the French forces in Tunis.

It is learned that the main subject discussed was the possibility of further improving the political situation in Tunis by placing a native civil service once more in control of domestic affairs. (Transocean).

Exceptionally severe was a further air raid carried out yesterday evening. 50 bombs were dropped on Grao, one of the suburbs of Valencia. (Transocean).

FOOTBALL RIOT AT STADIUM IN MANILA

Three persons, including a policeman, were injured in the Rizal Memorial Stadium Manila, at about 10.15 p.m. on June 8 when Filipino and Chinese football fans engaged in a brief but spirited rock-hurling contest after the All-Saigon eleven played the All-Manila selection to a 2-2 tie.

The Luneta reserves were called out to quell the riot, but everything was over when they arrived, says the Manila Bulletin.

Those injured, Patrolman Apolinario Mabanta, of the Luneta precinct; Gan Hei Sun, 23, of 898 Singalong, and Enrique Morales, 33, of 53 Gellidon, Sta. Ana Sub-division, were taken to the Philippine General Hospital for treatment. They were allowed to leave later, their injuries being slight.

A Chinese, Gan Hei Sun, was arrested, suspected of being one of the stone throwers. He was identified as one of the assailants of Morales, who was mobbed in the Chinese bleachers.

The riot was an aftermath of the game between the All-Saigon and Letran A. C., which was won by the former. In this game there were heated remarks tossed back and forth between the Filipino and Chinese sympathizers, when a riot was stopped only by hurried and timely police intervention after a few rocks were hurled through the air.

A BARRICADE

In order to prevent a recurrence on June 8 PAAF officials placed a barricade in the centre of the bleachers under the score board. Filipino and mestizos being ushered to one side and the Chinese to the other. But barricades are no barrier to rocks.

From the outset trouble was brewing. When All-Saigon received a penalty the opposition shouted in protest. When Bolserie scored the murmurings came from the Chinese and this kept up through the tense game.

FORREST TOWNS

Holder Of World's Hurdles Record

Confusion over existing world hurdles records was removed recently when Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, brought back the complete list of marks approved by the International Amateur Athletic Federation at its Paris congress, says the Christian Science Monitor.

Forrest (Spec) Towns, Georgia's Olympic champion, holds the official mark now of 13.7 seconds for 120 yards as well as 110-metres high hurdles. Towns registered this astonishing time at Oslo, in a post-Olympic meet in 1936, over the metric course. Since 110 metres is a few inches longer than 120 yards, the time automatically went into the books for both distances.

This wiped out the mark of 14 seconds flat, for 122 yards, previously credited to Bob Osgood of Michigan. Osgood's record, recorded in A. A. F. approval only for the lapse of a day that it took delegates to make up their minds on Towns' performance.

"Many delegates frankly were skeptical of Towns' time," said Brundage, "but his performance was double-checked and certified in every detail. We even looked at the movies of the race, which left no doubt he was flying."

Cabled reports on the record list, Brundage disclosed, omitted a new record for three-quarters of a mile, 3:00.4, by Josef Mostert of Belgium, and eight-distance running marks set by Finland's stars.

Volmari Iso-Hollo, Olympic steeplechase champion, set four of the new records, as follows: seven miles, 34:46.8; eight miles, 40:00.2; nine miles, 45:13; and 15,000 metres, 46:45.4. Others added to the books, 3,000 metres 8:14.8, by Gunnar Hoekert; 10,000 metres, 30:08.8, Uinari Salminen; six miles, 29:06.4, Salminen; and 15 miles, one hour, 19:48.8, by Erik Tami.

Three of the great Paavo Nurmi records were erased. Nurmi held the former marks for 10,000

NO DECISION AT PRESTON

Duckworth Alert As Ever

Limited to less than seven hours in three days, the match between Lancashire and Sussex at Preston ended recently in no decision.

In the two hours and a quarter available Sussex, replying to Lancashire's total of 173, lost seven wickets for 120 runs, and were 53 runs behind when stumps were pulled up.

John Langridge and J. Parks completed a first wicket partnership of 67 without experiencing much trouble. The wicket did not assist the Lancashire bowlers until the effect of the heavy roller had worn off.

Then, with sunshine flooding the pitch, six wickets fell in an hour for 28 runs.

IDON'S LEG-SPIN

Idon, bowling unchanged, with the wind behind him, flighted the ball well, and obtained a considerable amount of leg-spin.

John Langridge was run out in a peculiar way. Stepping out to drive Wilkinson, he played the ball not more than a foot away from the stumps. Duckworth scooped up the ball and broke the wicket before Langridge could regain his crease.

From this point Sussex were in difficulties. Only J. Parks withstood the trial for long, and for his 41 runs he batted an hour and 50 minutes.

and 15,000 metres, as well as six miles, Alfred Shrubbs, a time English star, formerly held the records for seven, eight, and nine miles.

BRADMAN HITS HIS SEVENTH TOUR CENTURY

London, June 15.

Don Bradman's prowess with the bat continues to make itself felt. Playing against the Gentlemen of England, Bradman scored 104 out of a total of 397.

It was a characteristically entertaining innings lasting 110 minutes. Altogether he sent the ball to the boundary 13 times.

In 12 innings during the present tour, he has scored seven centuries.

Stanley McCabe made 79 and A. G. Chipperfield 51.

Meyer kept a very good length throughout and took five wickets for 86 runs.

The Gentlemen of England had lost two wickets for 23 runs when stumps were drawn for the day.

COUNTY MATCHES

Gloucester 303; Middlesex 48 for 2. Hampshire 313; Derby 160 for 2. —(Reuter).

BRADMAN DECLARED WITHOUT NOTICE

London, June 16.

It is now revealed that in the First Test at Nottingham Don Bradman, the Australian captain, declared Australia's second innings though no official instructions were given to the scorers.

When the players returned to the pavilion at 6.15 p.m. it was generally supposed that the game had been abandoned early to enable the Australians to catch the train for London. According to the rules, umpires must allow 10 minutes between innings. Thus, England should have batted for five minutes. —(Reuter).

GERMAN WINS T.T. RACE

London, June 15.

The German racing driver, riding a D.K.W., won the lightweight T.T. race at the Isle of Man today.

He led throughout and covered the course of 264 miles in 3 hrs. 21 mins. 58 secs. at an average speed of 78.48 miles an hour.

Kluge averaged 80.35 miles in the second lap—the fastest speed ever achieved in a lightweight event.

At the end of the race, a Nazi flag and a laurel wreath were placed over Kluge's number on the score-board.

Second was Ginger Wood, riding an Excelsior Manxman, his time being 3 hrs. 33 mins. 5 secs., averaging a speed of 47.38 miles an hour.

Third was Tyrrell Smith, also in an Excelsior Manxman, his time being 3 hrs. 35 mins. 16 secs. and his speed 38.60 miles an hour.

There were 30 starters. Poor visibility on the mountain road delayed the start for two hours. —(Reuter).

TABLE TENNIS INTERPORT

Plans For Games In Colony

A very interesting stage now obtains in the ladies section of the Hong Kong Table Tennis League in that three teams—South China, "A", Silver Star and Wah Hung—tie for first place with six points each.

A similar position obtains in the men's league, namely South China, Silver Star and Craggower Club and here again a play-off is necessary.

As a meeting of the committee, to be held shortly, dates for the play-off in both sections will be discussed as will plans for the suggested interport between Hong Kong, Shanghai, Macao and Canton.

YORK CONVOCATION

Dr. Temple On Arms And Peace

The Archbishop of York (Dr. Temple) discussed foreign policy in his presidential address to the Joint Synod of the Convocation of York recently, says The Times.

Dr. Temple said that the general situation in the world was a source of profound anxiety and disquiet. It was not only an anxiety concerning what the future might bring, but a restlessness of conscience. He did not see how any Christian could contemplate the recent record of Europe, and especially in relation to Abyssinia, without shame and dismay. It might be that we had reached a point where acceptance of the evil done as an accomplished fact was preferable to any practical alternative.

That, as Lord Halifax had insisted, was a judgment, not of moral principle, but of political expediency. And even if he disagreed with the action of the Government at this stage—as in fact he did not—he would not think Convocation the place to express his criticisms.

What he was concerned about was the process, mental rather than historical, which had led to a situation where the only alternatives were calamity on the one side and humiliation on the other.

TROUBLE ACUTE

The trouble became acute when the Western nations failed to take such action as was possible about the aggression of Japan in Manchuria. He was himself persuaded that our own share in that matter was calamitous. The failure to act in that case of aggression was an inducement to any other would-be aggressor to test his fortune. The case of Abyssinia was nearer home. The League of Nations did take some action.

TWO METHODS

But it was said that we were not equipped for war—our disarmament had gone too far. The concern of the Christian as such with this whole matter was centred upon the establishment of justice, the increase of good will, and the harmony of all peoples in one family of God. "If we pursue those high purposes with confused minds," said the Archbishop, "we are unlikely to attain them."

There are, as it seems to me, two methods open to the Christian citizen and statesman. One is the method of complete pacifism, which would result in total disarmament. For this I have a profound respect, though I think it is mistaken.

The other method was that of establishing an international society of peoples so as to secure

NUDES CAUSE STIR AT EXHIBITION

National Fitness Campaign organizations caused a sensation at the Empire Exhibition in Glasgow, by expressing resentment at the presence of three nude feminine studies in the advisory council's pavilion representing industrial poses.

An official of the Fitness Campaign refused to allow members to dance in front of the nudes.

The controversy was ended by pasting paper over the screens fronting the figures.

MAN INNOCENT OF MURDER NARROWLY ESCAPES HANGING

Declaring that an awful miscarriage of justice had been prevented, the Ontario Court of Appeals recently freed John Comba, 30, University graduate, after he had been sentenced to death on a charge of murder.

On August 3 last year Ethel Hedderick was found murdered in the woods near Renfrew, Ontario, and Comba, who was spending a holiday at a neighbouring farm, found the body in circumstances which led to his arrest.

He strenuously protested innocence, but was convicted and sentenced to be hanged on February 12. His friends secured a review by the Court of Appeals.

Comba's conviction hung a good deal on a chance remark made to a woman neighbour during the organized search for the girl.

At a certain point he said, "I think we shall find something near here." He turned at right angles into the bush and immediately shouted that he had found the body.

SIR M. HANKEY TO RETIRE

A Director Of The Suez Canal

The following announcement was made from No. 10, Downing Street recently:—

"The Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury has nominated Colonel Sir Maurice Hankey, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O., LL.D., D.C.L., for appointment as Director of the Suez Canal, with effect from August 1 next, in place of the late Sir J. T. Davies, K.C.B., G.C.V.O."

A GREAT CIVIL SERVANT

Sir Maurice Hankey, who thus vacates the triple position of Secretary to the Committee of Imperial Defence, Secretary to the Cabinet, and Clerk to the Privy Council, was born on April 1, 1877.

He received his first commission in the Royal Marine Artillery in 1895, and five years later, while serving as a captain on the Mediterranean Station, came to the notice of Admiral Sir John (later Admiral of the Fleet Lord) Fisher. When Fisher became Second Sea Lord in 1902 he took Hankey to the Naval Intelligence Department at the Admiralty.

He was selected in January, 1908, to be assistant secretary of the Committee of Imperial Defence. On the retirement of the secretary (Admiral Sir Charles Ottley) in March, 1912, the Prime Minister (Mr. Asquith) appointed Hankey to the post at the early age of 34.

Two years later, when the War broke out, Hankey became secretary of the War Council, and in 1916, when Mr. Lloyd George formed a small War Cabinet, Sir Maurice Hankey, who had been created K.C.B. in February of that year, was appointed secretary.

A further innovation was the establishment of a secretariat to the War Cabinet with Sir Maurice as its head. Sir Maurice also acted as secretary during the meetings of the Imperial War Cabinet, and after the Armistice was chosen as British Secretary to the Peace Conference in Paris.

Of those at the conference he was said to be the only man who had attended every political and inter-Allied conference held during the War. In recognition of his many services Sir Maurice Hankey was in 1919 advanced to G.C.B., accorded the thanks of both Houses of Parliament, and made a grant of £25,000.

AFTER THE WAR

On the dissolution of the War Cabinet and Home Affairs Committee in October, 1919, a return was made to the older system with Sir Maurice as Secretary of the Cabinet.

Four years later Sir Almeric FitzRoy resigned the office of Clerk of the Privy Council, and Sir Maurice Hankey, who was appointed to succeed him, combined from then onwards the duties of that office with those of the secretariats of the Cabinet and the Committee of Imperial Defence.

He had been secretary of the Imperial Conference of 1921, and in November, 1922, accompanied the British delegation to the Washington Conference as secretary.

He was created G.C.M.G. in 1929, G.C.V.O. in 1934, and he has the honorary degrees of D.C.L. (Oxford), and LL.D. (Cambridge, Birmingham, and Edinburgh).

WASHED TROUSERS

Another incriminating feature was that some time between the hour when the crime was committed and supper time, Comba had washed the trousers he had been wearing.

His defence was an alibi, which showed that he was miles away at the probable time the murder was committed.

Comba is the first man convicted of murder ever to be completely freed by a Canadian court after conviction.

Court officials declared that in the entire history of the British Courts, Comba's is only the second case where a man has been pronounced innocent and set free after being sentenced to death.

Porcelain Manufacture Is Still Thriving Industry In Kingtehchen Centre

TWENTY THOUSAND WORKMEN ENGAGED ON 120 FURNACES

Although the war may have swerved the aesthetic appreciation of many a Chinese into more serious channels, the furnaces in Kingtehchen, the famous porcelain manufacturing centre in the Central China Province of Kiangsi, are still burning as brightly as ever, daily turning out beautiful pieces of chinaware which symbolize the nation's 4,000 years of civilization.

A stroll around this historic town leads the traveller into the happy imagination of visiting "Alice in Wonderland." Here and there he is fascinated by the finest specimens of porcelain from fancy snuff bottles to benevolent-looking buddhas; while on the streets, piles of rice bowls and blocks of tiles appeal to his bewildered eyes.

Yonder he beholds hundreds of chimneys steaming from dusk to dawn. At present, there are about 20,000 workmen engaged on the 120 furnaces. At one time, in the good old days, it was recorded that on less than 1,000,000 people were employed on the 500 furnaces. The value of export sales then was estimated at close to £500,000 annually.

Kingtehchen, one of the most famous towns in China, is situated along the Chang River and is flanked by high mountains. It was established in A.D. 1,004, under an Emperor of the Sung dynasty. Today it has added importance as one of the leading centres on the main highway from the eastern war front to the rear.

MANY CONTRASTS

Kingtehchen during wartime is full of interesting contrasts. Heavy military trucks roll along the broad thoroughfare side by side with the wheelbarrows loaded with china. Modern women with shapely legs and high-heeled shoes well disposed in the modern silk skirts who now find Kingtehchen a sanctuary, vividly recount their hectic days in cities near the front to native girls in the traditional short jackets and baggy trousers.

ANCIENT CHINESE ART

The manufacturing of porcelain or chinaware is an ancient Chinese art. Porcelain differs from ordinary pottery in its translucence, its superior fineness, whiteness and solidity.

Workers at Kingtehchen, most of whom have learnt the secrets of their trade through their ancestors, are in advance of their brethren elsewhere. In China in the colour and finish of their products which earn them the reputation as being the best porcelain manufacturers in the world.

Some of their masterpieces won wide acclaim at the London International Art Exhibition in 1935-6.

HEATING PROCESS

Although most of the furnaces turning out objects of art from cement, clay, Jasper quartz and other ingredients still stick to a traditional process of heating, imitating and glazing, the whole industry was, however, invaded by an innovation several years ago.

The Kiangsi Porcelain Works installed scientific equipment for the manufacturing of porcelain. The workmen of Kingtehchen, for the first time in their age-old trade, began to feel the pressure of their mechanical competitor.

MIXED FEELINGS

The introduction of machinery in Kingtehchen's porcelain manufacturing industry was received

World Search For War Officers Who Escaped From Germany

A world-wide search has begun for 27 British ex-officers, who took part in the most spectacular escape of the war from a prison camp at Holzminden, Germany.

They made their escape through a tunnel 150 yards long, which took them 10 months to excavate.

Two of the officers are dead, 10 are in England and the rest are scattered all over the world.

Mr. L. J. Bennett, late of the Air Force and now a member of the Air Force Club, Piccadilly, is organizing a search with a view to inviting the escapees to London to celebrate the 20th anniversary of their escape on June 23.

Mr. Bennett says that of 29 who made the attempt 19 were captured but the remainder passed over the frontier.

YORKSHIRE TAKE FOUR POINTS

EIGHT WICKETS FOR LEYLAND

An interesting struggle for the lead on the first innings took place at Huddersfield recently, when Yorkshire won the four points at stake by the narrow margin of 14 runs.

On the rain-drenched pitch Hampshire lost their 10 wickets for the addition of 162 runs in a little under two hours and a half. Leyland with his left-hand spin bowling proved the destructive force. He cannot have bowled better in his career, and his eight wickets cost only 83 runs in 28 overs.

Leyland's bowling often has proved useful, but few outstanding feats have fallen to his credit, his previous best being seven wickets for 57 runs against Lancashire at Bradford nine years ago.

Against the Hampshire batsmen he was nearly always the complete master. He turned the ball on the responsive pitch, and he was the only bowler who caused any trouble.

The only stand of note was that between the left-hander Potchery and the hard-hitting Budd for the seventh wicket, which realized 68 runs. Budd batted for 40 minutes, and in addition to an on-drive for 8 off Leyland he hit five 4's. Potchery in his stay of 80 minutes scored his runs out of 95, and was ninth out at 165. His chief hits were a pull for 6 over the square-leg boundary off Leyland and three 4's.

When Yorkshire batted a second time 50 minutes remained for play, and in that time Mitchell, Barber, and Leyland were dismissed by Hill's spin bowling for 24 runs.

No Helium
Gas For GermanyMEANS DEATH
BLOW TO ZEPPELINS

The mission of Dr. Eckener, the airship expert, to America to seek helium gas supplies is bound to fail.

The Secretary for the Interior
(Mr. Ickes) opposes export of helium without cash guarantees that it will not be used by Germany for war purposes.

The five other members of the National Munitions Control Board cannot agree with Mr. Ickes's contention that the gas would be of military importance, but as export is possible only if the Board is unanimous export must be forbidden.

President Roosevelt feels himself powerless under law to override
Mr. Ickes's objection.

"This," said Dr. Eckener "is the death sentence of commercial lighter-than-air craft."

MAGNIFICENT RESPONSE TO CHINA'S CALL TO ARMS

Policemen Also Enlist

Hankow, June 16.

Chinese in the south-western province of Kweichow are responding in large numbers to the call to arms. Latest news despatches from Kweichow, the provincial capital, gave two interesting instances showing the enthusiasm of people there to serve China against the Japanese.

When the call for conscripts came for the fourth time since the war to Lipo, a district in southern Kweichow, all able-bodied and trained men in the district assembled to draw lots in order to decide who were to go to the war. Among them were two policemen.

Great was the disappointment of the policemen when the draw was against them. Their officers, knowing how the two men felt, tried to make it easier for them by saying: "Well, be patient. Your chance to serve the country will surely come next time." They did not want to wait. That night, the two policemen left and walked to a neighbouring town where they lost no time in enlisting.

Another remarkable case of eagerness to meet the Japanese face to face was reported from Tungstse, a district in northern Kweichow, bordering on Szechuan. A 50-year-old school teacher kept on calling, at the county yamen everyday and requesting that he be permitted to join the army for active service. Time and again he was turned away on account of his age.

Finally the magistrate was so moved by the man's patriotism that he admitted the school teacher into an army training camp.—(Central News).

BANDITS WANT TO FIGHT JAPANESE

Canton, June 16.

Several hundred bandits at Peking, east of here on the East River, recently asked for incorporation into the Chinese army to fight the Japanese. It is learned that they will be reorganised into guerrilla units.—(Central News).

FURIOUS ANKING COUNTER-ATTACK

It is claimed that Chinese artillery had sunk six Japanese motor boats and more than 20 canvas boats, inflicting many casualties.—(Reuter).

STIFF STAND

Shanghai, June 16.

Chinese troops are today amassing at Chienhsan, 15 miles north-west of Anking, where a stiff stand is made against further Japanese advance.

Japanese forces west of Hefei attempted to effect a junction with their units in Anking, but were repulsed by the Chinese at Tungchen, midway between Hefei and Anking.

The loss of Anking was due to its made against further Japanese troops, who took advantage of a blinding fog. There are not strategic defences or natural barriers around the provincial capital.—(International).

ADVANCE ON SHUCHENG

Chengchow, June 16.

After a fierce engagement yesterday with 2,000 Japanese troops west of Taohicheng, a small village about 40 kilometres south of Hefei, a strong column of Chinese troops is advancing towards Shucheng, which they had previously abandoned.

Shucheng, according to military reports, has so far not been occupied by the Japanese.—(Central News).

HEAVY FIGHTING

Luan, June 16.

Heavy fighting raged simultaneously east and south of Shucheng, in the vicinity of Hwoshan and Tungcheng, between Japanese and Chinese forces throughout this morning and afternoon.

In the vicinity of Hwoshan, 50 kilometres east of Shucheng, the Japanese advance has been checked by determined Chinese resistance. Further south, near Tungcheng, violent fighting is proceeding in the outskirts of the city at Taiwan and Shachwan.

Altogether it is estimated that about 4,000 Japanese troops are engaged in the fighting near Hwoshan and Tungcheng.—(Central News).

FRENCH PLANE CONSTRUCTION

Denies Partition Of Production With England

Paris, June 16.

In connection with the explanations given by the Air Minister, M. Guy La Chambre, before the Chamber's Air Commission, it is stated here that the Minister emphatically denied the rumours that France and England had concluded an agreement according to which England reserved to herself the exclusive right of constructing bombers whilst France would confine herself to building pursuit planes.

It is added that the Minister informed the Commission that standardised production of the best French type of pursuit plane, the Morane 408, had already begun and that within the next three months France would be in a position to produce more than 200 machines monthly.

From March 1939 onwards it is calculated that the monthly output will amount to about 250 machines.—(Transocean).

NAZIS EXCUSE LOAN DEFAULT

High Minister Says Interest Too High

Berlin, June 16.

Speaking at Bremen on the principles of Germany's foreign trade policy and problems of international indebtedness, Herr Walter Funk, Minister of Economics, declared that such political indebtedness as the Daves and Young loans had brought Germany to the verge of destruction.

The prestige of National Socialist Germany, he declared, could no longer tolerate the present unjustifiably high rates of interest, and an early agreement must be reached assuring their reduction to a more normal figure.

Germany, he said, would meet every commercial debt honestly but regarded the system of political debts as incompatible with the Nazi economic system. Herr Funk described the Austrian loan as an example of a political loan and declared that in the light of international practice Germany could not be expected to assume responsibility for Austrian state debts.—(Reuter).

CLOSE RUN IN GOLD CUP

London, June 16.

The Gold Cup, run over 2 1/2 miles at Ascot today, proved to be quite a close race for the 10 starters. "Flares" (100/7) won by a neck from Buckleigh (100/8), while Senor (8/1) was again a neck behind the second.—(Reuter).

TOM SMITH

POSTPONES WEDDING

Tom Smith, Preston North End and Scottish international centre-half, who received a severe leg injury in a match in Prague recently, has had to postpone his wedding to Miss Margaret Gilmour, his pretty Sanquhar fiancée.

Miss Gilmour said: "Tom sent me a postcard from hospital in Budapest and told me not to worry. His foot is in plaster of Paris, but he expects to be home in Preston within a week."

Smith was to have been given a civic reception in his home town, Old Cumnock, Ayrshire. This also has been postponed.

FLOODS HAMPER JAPANESE

OTHER RIVERS OVERFLOW

Shanghai, June 16.

A Japanese naval spokesman admitted last night that the breaches in the dykes of the Yellow River have caused the overflow of the Hwai, Kwangsi and Ying Rivers in Anhwei.

According to the Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury, one breach of the Yellow River is as wide as 150 metres and the flood has reached Chungmou, on the Lunghai Railway. The Chengchow-Kaifeng highway is under ten feet of water, and the situation is worsened by heavy rain during the past several days.

The flood is seriously hampering Japanese military movements despite the claim that the Japanese advance to Chengchow will be continued.—(International).

TREMENDOUS DAMAGE

Shanghai, June 16.

Upwards of 2,000 villages have been flooded and some 300,000 persons are affected in various ways by the overflowing of the Yellow River in consequence of the destruction of dykes, according to a statement issued here today by Japanese Headquarters.

The statement asserts that practically no loss of life has been caused by the flood among Japanese troops.—(Transocean).

URGENT RELIEF MEASURES

Hankow, June 16.

Urgent flood relief measures were decided upon at an emergency meeting of the Executive Yuan summoned by Dr. H.H. Kung, President of the Yuan, yesterday.

According to the measures, the Yellow River Conservancy Commission will be instructed to close the dyke breaches as soon as possible. Mr. Chu Yangkuang, Vice-Chairman of the National Relief Commission, will take charge of urgent relief in the flood areas, while the various provincial governments concerned will be ordered to take appropriate measures for flood prevention and to extend adequate relief to the flood refugees.—(Central News).

TIMES COMMENT ON FLOODS

London, June 16.

"It is still difficult to gauge the flood's effect on Japanese strategy and Chinese defence," says The Times this morning in a leading article on the Yellow River floods. "The Japanese are now unable to reach Chengchow, and it must be admitted that they are not likely to have been primarily responsible for breaching the dykes and thus delaying their own progress."

"The undeclared war looks like dragging on for many months, and the tone of the inspired Japanese press suggests that the expense and duration of the struggle are beginning to tell on the nerves of Japanese politicians, who cannot forget that one of the campaign's results, which was nominally undertaken with the object of detaching China from the League of Nations, has been the ruin of a vast amount of constructive work which the Chinese Republic has undertaken with the aid of the League's technical experts."—(Reuter).

CHINESE AIR SUCCESS

A Government official stated that the planes were twin-engined heavy bombers, carrying five air-men apiece. He added that five were definitely shot down and the sixth hit and believed to be damaged.

SPEEDY PLANES

According to Chinese reports, the 12 Chinese pursuit planes took off on the sounding of the alarm and climbed to a height of 18,000 feet when they cruised about in readiness for the invaders which appeared flying in formations of three. The Chinese machines swooped down and gave no chance to the Japanese, who immediately broke formation.

It is officially stated that the Chinese machines were capable of more than 300 miles per hour, but Chinese headquarters are not prepared to state the make of the machines.—(Reuter).
